PROFILE

Front-End Developer (Next.js & React.js) with 2+ Years Freelance Experience, I possess a demonstrated ability to rapidly acquire new skills and implement them in the development of responsive and user-friendly web applications. I have passion for applying responsive design principles and witnessing my web pages seamlessly adapt to mobile screens. Additionally, I hold reputable online certifications relevant to this field. Despite my current role as a freelance web developer, I am fully prepared to transition to full-time employment. My experience in this domain extends to approximately one year, which I have gained alongside my primary occupation. I am continually dedicated to advancing my expertise and exploring emerging technologies for continuous learning and adaptation.
